

Distro subject line: Info Session for Northrop Grumman Future Technical Leaders (FTL) Program Opportunity on Tues 9/22 @ 7 PM CT

At Northrop Grumman, we've developed the Future Technical Leaders (FTL) Program - a strategic, three-year, professional development program aimed at identifying and investing in our next generation of visionary leaders in business, engineering, management, strategy, systems architecture, technology, and other critical areas. U.S. citizenship is required, as well as the ability to obtain a security clearance.

We are currently recruiting top Doctoral and Master's graduates from a select list of top universities from across the country to join a vibrant, inclusive, diverse, challenging, and collegial cohort. All STEM majors and specialties will be considered!

We are looking for adaptive, ambitious, collaborative, creative, curious, individuals that:

- Have an established, strong, technical background
- Have demonstrated leadership capability (broadly defined – ideas, people, initiatives, ...)
- Are open to broadening their knowledge, experience, and perspectives
- Are eager to embark upon a new, epic adventure
- Want a unique, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to launch their careers

We will be hosting a virtual information session on:

Tuesday, September 22, from 7:00PM-8:30PM CT

To attend our information session, please register via the link below. Zoom details will be sent via email to all who are registered the morning of the event.
